InterPlay Atlanta, a nonprofit organization uses the system of InterPlay to address issues of oppression. The nonprofit has joined with Early Edgewood-Candler Park's Bi-Racial History Project, Women Helping Others Achieve (WHOA), and Producer/Director: Katrina Browne to engage diverse communities in an embodied exploration of yesterday's slave trade and today's new faces of oppression. Participants will discover how one of Atlanta's most gentrified neighborhoods displaced African-Americans, only to become one of Atlanta's more affluent neighborhoods. Plan to be part of this powerful weekend. The event takes place in Candler Park at First Existentialist Congregation of Atlanta, located at 470 Candler Park Drive, NE | Atlanta, GA 30307.

Cost for part or all of weekend: sliding scale $0-$50, payments can be made via paypal to atlantainterplay@gmail.com
(no one turned away for inability to pay)
