Candler Park Fall Festival: Modern Vintage Panoramic Photography

By Mark Clement

For those of you who never got a chance to know him, Panorama Ray was quite a character and once he got his hands on an antique panoramic camera he captured some of the coolest pix of Atlanta. You have probably seen his work hanging in the Flying Biscuit, Manuel's Tavern and the international concourse of the Atlanta airport.

Shawn McElroy, also known as "Smack" is now the proud owner of Ray's camera and if you were there and can recall, Smack took a Panorama photo at this year's Fall Fest. The photo not only looks great, but has captured the crazy fun that is the Candler Park Fall Fest!

This pano measures just over 66 inches in length. Smack's normal pricing of $2 per inch puts the Fallfest pano at $132. But, he's willing to round this price down to $120 for anyone ordering this week. If you would like a copy, contact Smack at 404.643.5531 or www.propanorama@gmail.com.

Iverson Park Improvements

By Eric Dusenbury

The Friends of Iverson Park presented a list of planned park improvements at the November CPNO meeting. The presentation was to given to provide neighbors information about the proposed improvements and to receive feedback on the proposed improvements. The guiding principles for these improvements are to:

1. Keep field and playground intact.
2. Improve safety, aesthetics, and accessibility.

There will be a vote at the December CPNO meeting to approve the list of improvements that appears below. We are excited about these improvements and hope to have some of them completed in 2009. Please contact Eric Dusenbury at 404-522-7130 or dusenbur@bellsouth.net if you have any questions or would like to get involved with Friends of Iverson Park

Low Hanging Fruit (Items to be addressed 1st because they require less effort.)

- Mulch around mature trees
- Adding benches to the park
- Add sign notifying people not to use field when it is wet
- Add dog poop bag dispenser
- Stabilize lights so they stand vertically
- Clearing out the underbrush around the periphery of the park
- Remove footings for old lights that have been removed (along the sidewalk along the east side of the park)
- Install a garbage can at each entrance to the park. One will be moved from by the playground and another will be purchased.

And the Winners Are...

By Donna Palmer

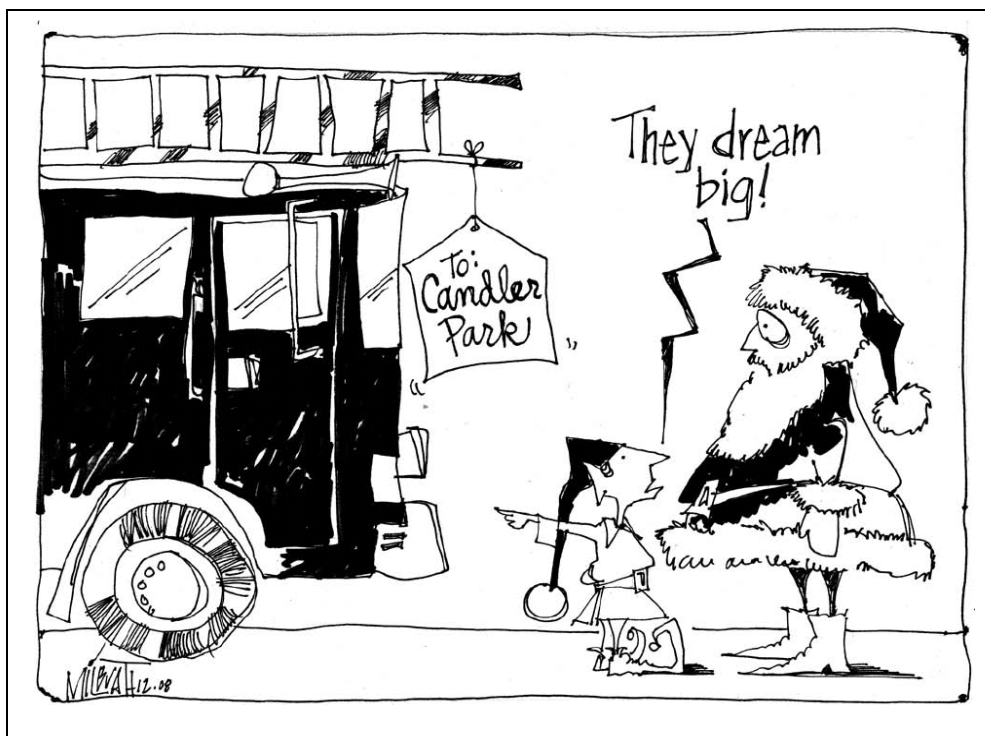

Neighborhood elections are over and the members of the 2009 Board of Directors for the Candler Park Neighborhood Organization are as follows:

El Presidente	Amy Stout
Vice Presidente	???
Recording Secretary	Maureen Wilce
Environmental Officer	Jo Jo Ross
Treasurer	Alonzo Church
Public Safety Officer	Regina Brandt
Membership Secretary	???
Special Projects Officer	Mark Clement
Zoning Officer	???

The "???" entries are not because of a heated run-off or a demand for recount. Rather, we can't find anyone who is willing and able to fill these positions. With the exception of Jo Jo, all of the folks who were elected are returning for another year of volunteering and merry-making. So, how about it; anyone out there interested in making a difference in our neighborhood? I encourage you to step up and join in the fun.

Many thanks to out-going board members: Mary Alice Bray, James Johnson, Tom Painter and Walt Weimar. Your hard work and dedication to all things Candler Park are an inspiration to us all.

[Editor's Note: Our beloved Walt has generously agreed to continue to sell ads for the Messenger. Woo hoo! And, all of other out-going board members have agreed to continue to serve until replacements are found. However, rumor has it that robo-calls will commence after the first of the year!]

Panorama

Smack was kind enough to donate a few of the prints to us, and several restaurants in the area have agreed to display the photo.

Panoramic pictures are short and wide, making them difficult and expensive to frame. The cheapest I have found is $180 per picture. I would like to propose that we vote to appropriate no more than $600 to have three panoramas framed so they can be displayed. It would serve as a little reminder of the 2008 Fall Fest. Imagine going to dinner in the neighborhood and picking out all of our smiling faces in the big picture! Brings the fun back again!

Like the phrase my friend Ray passed down to Shawn, "You don't know how good you look, until you had your Panorama took!"

Items requiring more effort (ordered by priority)

1. Improve the front of the park to increase visibility, reduce maintenance, address erosion, and make it more attractive. Specific action items include removing the junipers, building a low (24 - 30 inch) wall along the sidewalk, grading the slope to allow grass to grow, replacing existing stairs, and creating mulched planting beds for easier park maintenance.
2. Building a walking, biking loop around the periphery of the park. The trail will meet the sidewalk at grade at the northwest corner of the to improve access for those coming from Oakdale. We will explore creating either a fence or a planted visual barrier along the alleyway on the west side of park to provide privacy to the homes facing Oakdale.
3. Repair the back stop
4. Adding a volleyball court to the southwest corner of the park
5. Add an art installation in the southeast corner of the park
6. Add play small play structure (possibly swings) for younger children

NPU-N Report

By Amy Stout

The November NPU-N meeting was held on the third Thursday instead of the regular fourth Thursday. Consequently most City of Atlanta representatives were not present. Those that were in attendance had much to say about budget woes. We learned that the Mayor has required all general fund employees (non-airport and non-watershed) to cut back their hours by 10%. It is unclear if each department will set its own policies, if all city workers will switch to a four nine-hour workdays, or if another solution will be adopted. Workloads seem high and morale seems low though.

We elected Inman Park's current representative Jonathan Miller to serve as the non-voting Chair for 2009 and deferred selection of a Vice-Chair and Secretary until January.

The board approved a variance for 369 Mell and deferred a special exception for 358 Oakdale, consistent with CPNO's earlier votes.

We deferred voting on two brief ordinances related to secured storage facilities in hopes that improved drafts will come forward.

Next month we will discuss the legislation for a new zoning category of "Planned Development-Conservation Subdivision." The December meeting will also be moved to the third Thursday, December 18.

Free Ted Turner

From a press release

CNN founder Ted Turner comes to the Carter Presidential Library on Wednesday, December 10th to discuss his amazing life and his new book, "Call Me Ted." Because of the anticipated crowd, the event will be held in the Carter Center's Ivan Allen Pavilion. Doors open at 6 pm; the program begins at 7 pm.

The event, which is co-sponsored by A Cappella Books, is free and open to the public. No tickets are required; but seating is limited and is first come-first seated. Members of Friends of the Carter Library can obtain up-front, reserved seats by calling 404-865-7109 by noon on December 10th.

Information about membership in Friends of the Carter Library is available on line at www.jimmycarterlibrary.gov. Pre-signed copies of "Call Me Ted" will be available for purchase at the event. Turner will not be signing books or personalizing books following his talk. Don't miss this opportunity to hear one of the visionaries of our times.

2009 Historic Landscape and Garden Grant Program

From another press release

Non-profit organizations and local governments are eligible to apply for a matching grant for the preservation of Georgia's gardens and landscapes. All projects must be completed within a two-year period with a final report submitted to the Committee at the conclusion.

Applications may be found on The Garden Club of Georgia's Web site at www.uga.edu/gardenclub/pdfs/hlgg_app09.pdf or from Chairman Beverly Taylor at 706.327.8331 and bevst@charter.net. The deadline for submission of the application to the Chairman is February 1, 2009.

Friends of Candler Park Want You

By Jo Jo Ross

The Friends of Candler Park have moved our meeting time and work day! Please join us on the third Monday of the month at 6:30 PM at the First Existential Church on Candler Park Drive.

We meet for 30 minutes right before the monthly CPNO meeting - convenient, eh?

If you have an interest in our neighborhood's greenspace or have ideas for community events we'd love to have you.

We've moved our Saturday work day to the second Saturday of each month. We meet inside the park at 8:30 AM.

This month's workday will focus on caring for the playground's trees. Joining us for work days is a great way to get to know your neighbors, build community and teach your families about giving back.

We've got a lot of fun activities scheduled for this year; keep an eye for announcements in the Messenger as well as friendsofcandlerpark.com for upcoming events and announcements!

You Git What Y'Pay For

By The Food Freak

When I was in my early 20's my cousin gave me a home perm free of charge. When she finished, it looked just like I'd stuck my wet head in an electric socket. Her husband took one look at my hair and drawled "Well...you git what y' pay for". How true.

Same holds true for prepared food. After years of anticipation and hard work, Chef Samantha Enzmann and Janea Boyles finally opened the door of their new food emporium – The Mercantile. Located at the corner of Clifton Road and Dekalb Avenue, this funky little store provides fresh produce, yummy sandwiches, soups, gourmet takeaway dinners, specialty fixins and treats.

As a certified Food Freak, I'm beyond excited about this new culinary convenience store in our fabulous neighborhood. One night last week, I wanted to make a pot of soup, but was fresh out of homemade chicken stock. I could have driven over to a big box grocery and bought a can of commercial broth, but instead, I was able to walk over to The Mercantile and purchase the real deal. Now it wasn't as cheap as the commercial broth, but oh, man the flavor was worth every penny.

The Mercantile also came in handy when I was heading out for my monthly book club's afternoon of wine, gossip and the occasional mention of the story we were supposed to read. Anyhow, for about 10 bucks, I got a package of spiced pecans, a loaf of fresh bread and the best tasting pimento cheese I have every put in my mouth. No kidding, it is that good.

With the holiday screaming down on me, I know I'm going to need a respite from cooking dinner. Fortunately, complete gourmet meals are available to purchase and take home. The menu changes daily, but its posted on the web each week (<http://themercentileatl.com>).

So, anyone wondering what to buy me for Christmas can be guaranteed a squeal of delight if you wrap up a Mercantile Gift Certificate and stuff it in my stocking.

HO HO HO Everybody!

By Mark Clement

Not in the holiday spirit yet? Have I got the "get right" magic for you! December 13th at the Variety Play House is the KINGSIZED Holiday Jubilee and Toy Drive benefitting Toys For Tots.

If you loved their Fall Fest performance you do not want to miss them in all of their festive lights and glory as they will be bringing back some holiday memories and making new ones.

Remember "lucky 13"-December 13th and a 13-piece orchestra-much larger than the Fall Fest show! Also featured at the holiday show is Atlanta's answer to the Radio City Music Hall's Rockettes-the DAMES AFLAME! You will not be disappointed.

Now, about that toy we mentioned...bring an unwrapped, unopened toy and you'll get a special holiday portrait with our own Lil Santa. This show is always a blast! All ages too. I am bringing my Mom and nephews.

Think about it- we can walk to great restaurants and shows like this. To me this is one of the coolest things about this neighborhood. Mike Geier and Kingsized have supported us and our Fall Fest- what do you say we make this an early sell-out for them??

Check out their site <http://www.kingsized.biz/> . The site will send you to the right place for tickets. The Candler Park Section is usually middle left hand side of the theater

Felder Street - A Neighborhood Success Story

By Andrew Feiler

The paving of Felder Street is almost complete. To catch everyone up, you'll recall that Felder Street, which runs between Mansfield Avenue and Druid Place, has long been a dirt road. While this was wonderfully quaint, it also meant the road had an unfortunate tendency to wash out rather dramatically with a heavy rain.

As such, in late spring of 2007 the City of Atlanta developed (without any neighborhood input) a plan to pave the street. The essence of this plan was to take a road that was 18' wide, clear a 30' wide swath, wipe out all the trees on both sides of the road, and install a perfectly engineered strip of asphalt.

Fortunately sanity prevailed. It literally took over a year and the combined efforts of a number of our neighbors, but we were able to convince the city to redesign the entire plan. The improvements we were able to achieve included a roadway reduced to 19' feet, the use of curbing that was less intrusive, the routing of storm water lines away from critical tree roots and the use of porous paving in one stretch to protect the roots of an especially large and majestic white oak. While we did lose some of the smaller caliper trees on one lot, the resulting plan helped preserve the largest and most beautiful trees along the road.

One critical aspect of this successful endeavor in civic activism was the over 100 of our neighbors who signed a petition request exactly the type of modifications that we were able to achieve in the final plan. Thanks to each of you for stepping up and helping with this effort. Thanks also to the offices of Councilmembers Ceasar Mitchell and Anne Fauver for their assistance. And a special thanks to our neighbor Walter Brown, whose insight into the workings of the city and whose tireless commitment to the cause of tree preservation was simply invaluable.

CPNO Meeting Minutes November 2008

Compiled by Maureen Wilce

The regular monthly meeting of the Candler Park Neighborhood Organization, Inc. was held on Monday, November 17, 2008 at the First Existentialist Church, 470 Candler Park Church, with president Amy Stout in the chair. The meeting was called to order at 7:00 pm. Approximately 26 people, a quorum, attended the meeting.

John Howe, retired lieutenant firefighter in Atlanta presented on the current Brown Outs, due to manpower shortage. Station 12 is the first station to have equipment out of service. Ladder truck 12 has been closed several times already. The mayor has announced fire fighters are going to have additional cut backs in hours. This creates a dangerous situation to the fire fighters and the neighborhood. Please refer to the Messenger for contact information for potential actions.

Agenda and minutes were approved, as amended

Vetting process: (detailed in October Messenger) was discussed. Concerns for an expedited process were raised, but a major physical space projects will need time to plan and be reviewed. "Wish lists" for potential projects can provide advance approval. This group, by organizational rules, may not have authority to pass such a resolution. However, this systematic process still has merit if it is applied. A motion was made to table the vote until the language was clearer on what types of projects would be covered. 15 votes supported the motion, no opposition.

Atlanta Police Inspector Ruby Naylor, Crime Prevention Specialist, reported that the police Department will host a Holiday Safety Summit this week in East Atlanta and then Dec. 6 at Home Depot on Ponce which will include demonstrations of security products. Officer Naylor provided tip sheets regarding crime prevention. The police provide extra patrols when requested, and forms will be made available.

Freedom Park Conservancy representative Richard Ford requested a donation of $1,000 to help the Conservancy to continue its work. Concerns were raised about the state of the corner lot at North and Moreland. Money is needed to respond to the North Avenue residents' request. A motion was made to approve this request and was carried unanimously.

Friends of Iverson Park, Eric Dusenbury and Marisa Jensen presented their plans for improving the park. They reported that discussions with neighbors confirmed they did not want a direct MARTA entrance reopened, so the plan was amended. Iverson Park will get a sign from the City to help protect the field. CPNO will accept no liability regarding any actions undertaken. In December the group will request CPNO support.

Zoning Issues:

369 Mell Avenue requests a small addition. A motion was made and unanimously approved. 358 Oakdale was deferred until December.

CPNO Elections for 2009 were held. The following individuals were nominated and elected, by members present. Amy Stout, president; Alonzo Church, treasurer; Maureen Wilce, recording secretary; Regina Brandt, public safety officer; JoJo Ross, environmental officer; Mark Clement, special projects officer. There were no accepted nominations for the positions of vice president, membership secretary or zoning officer. Any persons interested in serving in these positions should contact current officers for more information.

Officer Reports:

Regina Brandt showed a home inventory form available from the Police and urged all to take advantage of the additional patrols available while you are out of town.

Alonzo Church reported that CPNO had $58,147. A full financial report will be in the Messenger.

Tom Painter reported that a request for reimbursement for bulbout beautification has been made.

Richard Ford noted that Poncey-Highlands is starting a community garden and there will be a Conservancy formed for the new Old Fourth Ward Park.

Announcements:

Friends of Candler Park will meet at 6:30 before the CPNO general meeting, at the First Existentialist church.

There is a runoff election on December 2nd. Three offices will be decided. You did not have to vote in November to participate.

Meeting adjourned at 8:33.

Holiday Safety Tips

Compiled from lists provided by
The Atlanta Police Department

Criminals love the holidays as much as everyone else...mainly because it's a perfect opportunity to commit a crime. Keep these tips in mind for a safe and happy holiday season.

When you are traveling...

- Set an automatic timer for your lights
- Ask your neighbor to watch your home, pick up newspapers, collect mail and park in your driveway from time-to-time.
- Be sure to hide any gifts that may be left in the house while you are gone.

When you are out for the evening...

- Turn on lights and a radio or TV so that it appears as if someone is home.
- Lock all doors and windows while you are out...even if you'll only be gone for just a few minutes.
- Do not place packages or gifts near windows on it other high-visibility areas.

When you are shopping...

- Don't let your guard down just because you are rushing.
- Stay alert and be aware of everything around you at all times.
- Park in well-lighted spaces and as close to the store as possible, lock your car doors and hide packages in the truck or under the seats.
- Do not carry large amounts of cash; pay with a check or credit card if possible.
- Carry your purse close to your body, not dangling by the straps. Put a wallet in an inside coat pocket or front pants pocket.

When a Stranger Comes to the Door...

- Do not open the door to strangers. Ever.
- Stay alert to suspicious-looking couriers delivering packages to you or your neighbors.
- Many con artists take advantage of holiday generosity by going door-to-door. Ask for identification and get specifics to how and where the donations will be spent/used.
- If you feel uncomfortable, just say "no thank you".

When you are at home...

- Turn on outside lights to deter burglars.
- Report any suspicious behavior to 911.
- Make sure your homeowners or renters insurance is up-to-date and everything is properly inventoried.
